Jim,

Myra called after she got a copy of my email regarding fees. She advises me that she has talked to several people already about fees. So, in addition to the fees we discussed, everyone should be reminded of the fees associated with the Planning Board approval (Myra already has talked about these).

They include, approval fees ($100) and recreation fees ($1500 per unit). These are payable at stamp of approval.

Please make sure everyone is aware of these, per Myra's previous discussions.
